SLEEPING BEAUTY

Prologue & Christening

King Florestan and his Queen have welcomed their first child, Princess Aurora, and declare a grand christening ceremony to honor her. Six fairies are invited to bestow gifts on the child. Each fairy represents a virtue or positive trait, such as beauty, purity, dancing and happiness, singing and laughter, sparking personality. Before the Lilac Fairy can bestow her gift, the evil fairy Carabosse arrives to find out why she wasn't invited to the ceremony. She is furious and places a spell on Aurora that she will prick her finger at the age of 16 and die. The lilac fairy intervenes and changes the spell to one in which Aurora will sleep for 100 years, but can be awakened by a handsome prince.

Act 1

At Aurora's 16th birthday party, celebrations are underway. The flower garlands perform an elaborate waltz, and then the princess arrives. Carabosse arrives, disguised, and gives Aurora flowers with a needle hidden in them. She pricks her finger and collapses into a deep sleep. The lilac fairy casts a spell over the entire kingdom, and everyone sleeps for 100 years.

Act II, after 100 Years

The court ladies open the scene outside, then we see a vision of Prince Florimund and Aurora. The lilac fairy explains the sad story of Princess Aurora, and Florimund begs to be taken to the princess. He is slowly led to Aurora, and awakens her with a kiss. The rest of the kingdom wakes as well, and the King and Queen heartily approve when the prince proposes marriage and the princess accepts.

Act III

The wedding is celebrated, everyone dances a grande finale, and all live happily ever after.
